

EXTENDED DEADLINE: September 15, 2017.

We are excited to announce that Issue 12 of Understorey Magazine will be dedicated to writing and art by women of African descent in Nova Scotia.

This project is funded in large part by the Delmore "Buddy" Daye Learning Institute, an organisation focussed on excellence in Africentric education, with additional funding from the Canada Council for the Arts.

Issue 12 will be published in both digital and print editions and will be guest-edited by author/editor Lindsay Ruck.

We will also hold two community writing workshops during May 2017. One workshop will be in the Halifax Regional Municipality and another in Shelburne, NS. (Please stay tuned for dates and times.)

Submissions are now open to all who identify as women of African descent and who live in Nova Scotia (as well as African Nova Scotian women living outside NS). Please contact us with any questions and see full guidelines on our submissions page.

African Nova Scotian
Women

A Call For Stories & Art
Seeking personal essays, poetry, fiction, spoken word and visual art by women of African descent in Nova Scotia.

Deadline: September 1, 2017

Details: understoreymagazine.ca

Delmore "Buddy" Daye Learning Institute
Excellence in Africentric Education

Understorey MAGAZINE

Canada Council for the Arts / Conseil des arts du Canada

ALEXA McDONOUGH INSTITUTE for women, gender & social justice

Share this:

Share